Fort Caspar Museum's Caspar Collins Day is free and open to the public. We provide an opportunity for both businesses and individuals to sell historically appropriate items. Final determination of appropriate merchandise will be made by the Event Coordinators. Forms must be received by July 20, 2016. (Contemporary vendors complete a standard Vendor Form.)

Free Family-Friendly Fun at the Fort: Caspar Collins Day July 23, 2016

Join us as we commemorate the city of Casper's namesake on the 151st anniversary of the Battle of Platte Bridge with a day of fun activities for the entire family. Interact with 19th-century characters including cavalry and infantry soldiers, pioneers, American Indians, and frontiersmen. Watch firearm demonstrations and cavalry drills. Enjoy toys and games popular with children 150 years ago and peruse period merchandise. Visitors may also stroll through a modern-day vendor mart and purchase hand-made items and food.
